About Elisha

When you meet Elisha for the first time, she strikes you as one of the most warm, welcoming and genuine human beings on the planet. She has a deep desire to connect and positively impact those she comes in contact with. Drawing from her own challenging personal journey, she's known for her real life lessons and anecdotes from motherhood, entrepreneurship, fashion, marriage, self love and self discovery. Often told that she's "a vibe", her fans, viewers and listeners haven't ever seen anything quite like her.

Alongside her husband Charles, Elisha has built a portfolio of companies spanning industries from foodservice to construction to real estate development. These include 2 companies at 8 figure revenue and 7 companies at 7 figure revenue. Managing as many as 135 in house employees, Elisha is no stranger to the challenges and joys of large teams.

One of Elisha's key entrepreneurship skills is her ability to build systems and procedures for the efficient and predictable operation of her companies. Often asked to consult on this topic, she is able to bring game changing insight to other organizations.

Elisha has faced incredible hardship and difficulty in her 36 years. There have been painful lessons and plenty of opportunities to find new limits of her capabilities to endure. She's no stranger to the feelings of overwhelm, loss, thoughts of suicide and questions about "why". Through it all, she's gained a deeper understanding of herself and those around her. Her zeal for living is contagious and her real life experience is undeniable.

Elisha strives to be authentic, real and comfortable being imperfect, a perspective that is fresh and wildly impactful. With an exploding and devoted social media following, she is quickly becoming one of the most popular personalities across multiple platforms.
